

LogWatch

Operational Intelligence Tool

LogWatch monitors application log files to provide real time detection of errors and raise alerts to facilitate quick resolution.

LogWatch is a Guardian program that watches log files for new entries and examines the content for a configured error pattern. When an anomaly is detected, LogWatch raises alert to notify team members via email, text, VHS or file records.

Out-of-the-box solution for monitoring OSS files

Monitoring OSS application errors is easy with LogWatch, which works with iTP Web Server, Java, MQ, NS SOAP and other OSS programs. Your support team doesn't have to navigate through all the complex OSS commands to find the information.

Give your EMS and VHS logs a break

By using LogWatch to route only relevant error messages to EMS, your event collectors do not have to be overloaded with deluge of messages. LogWatch allows you to monitor application logs easily without having to set up complex EMS filters or SPI rules.

LogWatch consolidates and centralizes application logging

LogWatch allows monitoring of application logs from different programs and consolidates them into a single central log file for easy trouble-shooting.

Key Features

- Monitors log files and raise alerts automatically
- Monitor OSS files easily
- Scan mode allows for offline analysis
- Multiple line events
- "No Activity" detection
- Monitors EMS and VHS Log without writing filters
- Easy to install and to use
