

TIC AWS Gateway (TAG) connects NonStop to the Amazon Cloud

Cloud computing has become the new normal as companies of every size have realized its benefits. For most organizations, the question is no longer “if we should?”; it’s “how can we move?” and “when can we expand?” NonStop applications can benefit from cloud expansion and with TAG from TIC and Canam Software. TAG makes connecting your NonStop information to AWS quick and easy.

TIC AWS Gateway (TAG) provides an easy path to move data from NonStop to the Amazon Cloud, where you will gain access to a complete set of innovative tools and services immediately.

TAG suite has two components: DataLoader and Shadowbase Connect

TAG DataLoader – NonStop and AWS Storage data loader

DataLoader makes moving data from NonStop files to Amazon S3 buckets - including metadata of the original file - as simple as a COPY command. The data in S3 buckets can then be analyzed easily by tools such as QuickSite or Athena, further transformed into other database transactions, or simply stored as archival data inexpensively. S3Copy also provides ability to copy S3 bucket data back to NonStop.

TAG Shadowbase Connect – Replication between NonStop and AWS

With TAG Shadowbase Connect, NonStop data can be replicated and synchronized in real time with storage in the AWS Cloud. The software intercepts data changes captured in Shadowbase's User Exit framework and feeds them to an AWS Lambda module that stores the data in S3 buckets. This enables integrating NonStop with a data lake or data mart cloud solution, where sophisticated AWS transformation and analytic tools are readily available.
